Association between alignments of the outer planets and global news highlights – a study of mundane astrology 1984-2021

Johnson Holt, PhD.

Abstract

A significant association ($p < .01$) was found between the occurrence of tight aspects ($orb < 1^\circ$) that the five outer planets make in the sky and the occurrence of independently sourced historical highlights over the period 1984 to 2021. The aspects considered were all conjunctions and oppositions between Uranus, Neptune and Pluto and the same aspects these planets make with Jupiter and Saturn. The number of news highlights in a year was compared with the frequency of these aspects in that year or in the previous year. The conditional probability of a high-news year given two or more such aspects was 0.68, compared to a conditional probability of 0.23 given one or zero aspects. A high-news year was therefore nearly three times as likely when two or more aspects occurred in the same year or in the previous year than when they did not.

Past Saturn/Neptune conjunctions and Iran

- Saturn was conjunct Neptune on July 31, 1917. This conjunction was preceded by a Lunar Eclipse on July 4 and a Solar Eclipse on July 18. This is the year the Persian Famine began (1917-1919) that killed about 2 million people.
- 1953 coup d'état from August 15-19 and backed by the U.S. and U.K. restores power to Mohammad Reza Pahlavi as the Shah of Iran. There was a Solar Eclipse prior to this around July 10 (or July 11 in some parts of the world) and another one on August 9. The Saturn/Neptune conjunction was on July 21, 1953.
- The rise of modern Iran and the Ayatollah Khomeini on February 11, 1989, coincided with critical transits to the July 21, 1953, chart for the previous Saturn/Neptune conjunction.
- The Ayatollah Khomeini died on June 3, 1989. This was preceded by a Saturn/Neptune conjunction on March 3, 1989. Also, there was a Lunar Eclipse on February 20 and a Solar Eclipse on March 7.
